Put the wind in your sails in this brilliant team-building exercise

Dig deep into your group's skill base to form Design Management teams whose ultimate aim is to design a 'wind-propelled lifting apparatus'.

Utilise your teams' combined ingenuity to solve puzzles against the clock. Use your winnings to buy equipment to construct your winning machine!

This is an exhilarating and fun challenge which targets the full range of your team's resources, as they tackle a myriad of initiative problems and tasks together.
